DEPARTMENT 13
VEGETABLES

- In selecting vegetables for exhibition, choose such specimens that would bring the highest market price. Do not select the largest; select medium size specimens. If at all possible, do not mix varieties.
- The following factors are generally used by an expert vegetable judge.
 - Trueness to variety type. If at all possible, pick the specimens from one variety.
 - Uniformity in shape, size and color.
 - Be sure to pick out a perfect specimen, then select the others as similar to it as possible. Never mix specimens of different maturity.
 - Protect from dirt, disease, infection, and mechanical damage. Select specimens that are perfect and show no blemishes of any kind.
 - Condition and maturity. Be sure that exhibits are of high quality.
 - Potatoes should not be washed. Remove soil using a soft cloth or brush.
 - Tomatoes should have stems removed. Carrots, beets, etc. should have top (leaves) removed leaving about two inches of stems.
- Read premium material, carefully following all rules and regulations. If an entry calls for five specimens, be sure to exhibit that number; do not enter four or six. In any instance, your exhibits will be disqualified if the correct number of specimens is not entered.

HOME CANNING PRINCIPLES

In the air and all around us are invisible microorganisms such as mold, yeasts, and bacteria. Many are beneficial while others can be harmful under certain conditions. These “spoilors” live and multiply on the surface of fruits, vegetables, meats and all other types of food. They are the major causes of food spoilage and loss of quality.

Canning interrupts the normal spoilage and decay cycle of food by heating the food contained in a home canning jar that has been closed with a two-piece vacuum sealing cap. When heat is applied according to recommended times and pressure, microorganisms are destroyed and air is driven from a jar. Upon cooling, the lid seals onto the jar.

Currently, we recommended canning by two proven methods: boiling-water canning and steam pressure canning. Home canners will make their choice of which of these methods to choose based on the pH of the food being canned. It is important that processing methods (including time to process) be current and be based on research. Some processing methods that have been handed down through the generations in families probably do not reflect current thought and need to be reexamined in light of recent studies.

Vicki Lewis will be testing canner lids at the fairgrounds during the fair. If you would like to have this done, please call 570-433-3040 to make an appointment to have your lid tested during the fair.

If you have questions about how the food preservation exhibits will be handled at the fair, please contact Vicki Lewis at the Extension office, 433-3040, or by email: vb12@psu.edu.

SECTION 2 – CANNED OR DRIED PRODUCTS

1. Use only standard mason-type clear pint or quart glass jars for preserving and exhibiting fruits, vegetables and meats.
2. Green or other colored jars are unacceptable.
3. Metal screw bands may be loosely applied while transporting jars to and from the fair. However, screw bands must be removed from jars before exhibiting entries.
4. All food not in standard jars or not sealed with self-sealing lids will be disqualified by the judge.
5. Entries must have been processed since the last fair.
6. To maintain a quality fair, participants will be asked to identify the method of preservation used as well as the number of minutes and pounds of pressure for pressure canning. This information is to be provided at time of entry.
7. Judges are privileged to open and sample canned goods and jellies if such treatment appears necessary in making a decision.

Canned fruits and vegetables to be judged on quality, general appearance and container. ALL CANNED FOOD PRODUCTS MUST BE EXHIBITED IN STANDARD CANNING JARS, AND SEALED WITH VACUUM OR SELF-SEALING LIDS, WITH THE SCREW OR RING BANDS REMOVED.
